technology

Powerful next generation, high density printing

Through years of meticulous engineering design, our engineers have worked tirelessly to redefine our inkjet core technology, striving to create more precise, durable components, to enhance print speed and extend machine life.

Brother's patented MAXIDRIVE print chip utilises a unique dual transformational piezoelectric system that emits ink at high power.

The MAXIDRIVE print chip delivers ultra-fast, durable, premium quality colour printing. Individual ink droplets are provided via 40 micrometer thick film, ejected through 1,680 individual chambers across a single print chip.
